

1

We take turns clockwise. On your turn, pick a card and read it out loud.

2

You've been handed the keys to produce to a storied franchise with a rabid fanbase.

3

You are a crew of filmmakers who have worked with each other for years. Writers, directors, producers, actors, and artists.

4

Over the years, you have had your ups and downs with each other, building beautiful work together while creative differences have slowly fermented into personal resentment.

5

But you've stuck together. Until now.

6

The studio wants a new take. Something to freshen up the franchise, yet will bring back old fans. And it's up to you to deliver.

7

Let's start with the franchise. What is it called?

8

When was the original released? What medium? And what genre?

9

Was it initially successful? Or was it a cult classic? Something in between?

10

Now, who are you? Name? Age? Gender identity? Look? Most importantly - what is your job within the crew? Are you the Director? Producer? Writer? Actor? Production Designer? SFX?

11

What was the last movie your crew made? The one that landed the crew the biggest break of their life. It must've been good, right? Right?!

12

Okay, let's go over the rest of the game.

13

When the Instructions cards are all read, we continue to take turns playing with the Questions cards.

14

Read your card aloud and answer the question.

15

Other players can ask you questions or make suggestions. But they can't answer for you and it's up to you to decide whether or not you take their comments into account

16

When you answer a question, don't hesitate to involve the characters of the other players in your answer, while letting them describe how they react.

17

This is the X Card. Place it in the middle of the table where everybody can reach.

18

If there is a card or answer that you do not want to include in the story, touch the X card. This content is removed from the game.

19

If your card is removed from the game in this way, draw a new one. You can use the X card on your own card.

20

On your turn you may pass. Give your card to the next player and say, I'd like to hear your answer to that question.

21

A Questions card can thus be passed from player to player until it is cancelled by the X card.

22

Continue to answer, pass or use the X card until the The movie's out at last! card is drawn.

23

You must answer the last five questions. Everyone answers the last question. Then the game is over.

24

Time to play! The first player may draw the next card.
