

1

Take turns clockwise. On your turn, click the "next" arrow to draw a card and read it out loud.

2

You are all close friends or partners, heading home from a party. You didn't necessarily arrive together, but you are leaving together tonight.

3

What kind of party was it? You can choose one of the party images for inspiration (<https://tinyurl.com/partyimages>) or come up with one on your own.

4

On your turn, read your card aloud and answer the question. Interpret these questions and answer them however you wish.

5

Other players may ask you follow-up questions or make suggestions on your turn, but whether you answer those questions or include those suggestions is entirely up to you.

6

If you do not wish to answer a question, you can pass it to the next player or ignore it and draw a new one.

7

When you answer a question, don't hesitate to involve the characters of the other players in your answer, while letting them describe their role in the moment at hand.

8

As you introduce fellow party-goers (either player characters or NPCs), write their names down on post-its, index cards, or a shared document, to help everyone remember who they are.

9

Whoever wants to can draw the first question card.

10

Continue answering and passing questions until the "Afikoman" card is drawn. This card begins: "What was the last thing..."

11

Each player answers the Afikoman questions in turn. Then the game is over.

What did you bring tonight and why was it a big hit?

You and the host are old friends. Where did you first meet?

What neighborhood was the party in? How far did you have to travel to get there?

You wore something special tonight. What was it and who were you hoping would notice?

When did you arrive at the party? What was happening when you got there?

The host has a very distinctive decorating style. Describe it.

The host had music on that you felt strongly about. What was it and how did it make you feel?

The party had the perfect number of people. How many were there?

Who did you arrive with? Are you leaving with them?

The party featured something you had previously gifted the host. What was it and how did seeing it tonight make you feel?

Who did you see flirting with someone unexpected? Did they flirt back?

What did you try tonight that was new to you and what was it like?

What did the host's pet do that made you smile?

You saw someone flaunt something that you envy. What was it and why don't you have it?

You made a joke tonight that landed flat. What was it?

Someone was missing from the gathering. Who are they and why did you especially miss them?

You snooped in the host's things on your way to the bathroom. What did you find?

You reconnected with someone from your past at the party. Who was it and why did you drift apart?

Another guest shared something deeply personal tonight. What was it and why did it mean a lot to you?

At one point during the party you felt awkward and left out. Who reached out to start a conversation with you and what was it about?

One of the guests didn't seem to fit in with the rest of the crowd? Why not?

You were offered a drink, but you refused it. Why?

You experienced a deep connection with someone you don't know well. What happened?

You left the main party with someone else for a while. Who was it and where did you go? What did you do together?

Who seemed like they're going through a hard time? What did you do to support them?

Someone asked you an uncomfortable question. What was it and how did you respond?

You forgot something at the host's house. What was it? Will it be easy to retrieve?

You shared something on social media tonight that you wish you hadn't. What was it and who don't you want to see it?

The host gave you something to take home with you. What is it? Did you take it enthusiastically or reluctantly?

You stayed later than you intended to. Why?

What epic moment from tonight will you all be talking about for years?

Who did you make plans with to see again soon? Will you follow through?

What struck you as especially beautiful tonight?

Afikoman: What was the last thing you said, did, or ate before you left the party? Was it sweet or bitter?
